Interfaith Day

One of the things that makes Fullwood a very special place for learning is the diverse community we serve. We are made up of many different religions, cultures, and traditions and speak over 40 languages in our school. With this rich mix of variety in our school, we are always using every opportunity to explore and investigate some of the similarities and differences in our religions and cultures in order to gain a better insight into the way other people live their lives and the beliefs they may have.

We celebrated Interfaith Day this week and it was a wonderful day! We started the day with a whole school assembly, where the children were able to show their outfits to the rest of the school. They then returned to their classes and completed different activities focusing on different religions. Throughout the day, the children shared religious or cultural items that they brought into school with their peers. They presented their items beautifully, so a big well done to all of them! During the afternoon, every class presented their work to show the wonderful learning that took place.
